

AMANDA SELF

Berry Shiny, the Shining Spark son that Dusti Worbets picked out as a yearling at the 2005

Amanda Self, of Pritchard, BC, tells us she is excited to be bringing two super-talented stallions to the Team Selection Finals. She's fresh from a marathon drive home from the NRHA Derby where her 7th place finish among more than 80 entries bought her a finals position in the Div. 2 Open Derby. She was atop Berry

Shiny, owned by Rafter D Reiners (Dusti and Roy Worbets) and Dusti was there, cheering all the way. "As an owner, I experience the highs and lows of every ride my trainer makes," she says. She knows how tough it is to go up against the big names, but she aims to produce the best. She bought Berry as a yearling at the Futurity sales and has just had her first foal from him.

Great Testament, owned by Stefan Fuchs of Tom's Lake, BC, is a more recent mount for Amanda and another extremely talented horse, she reports. He is a 7-year-old son of Einstein (Great Resolve) who took first place at the 2000 Congress Open Futurity and as a 4-year-old at the NRBC and NRHA Derbies.
